

Food and Clothing Cost To Drop in 1920 If Public Aids, Says U. S. Expert

By HOWARD E. FIGG,
Special Assistant to the Attorney General.
(Written Expressly for the International News Service.)
If the people of the United States will continue their co-operation with the Government in its effort to reduce prices of necessities, the high cost of living will drop steadily during the new year.

Food Prices to Fall Most.
Food prices particularly will show a reduction during the year 1920. Since the Department of Justice has taken over the campaign against excessive charges for foodstuffs prices have been held at normal or have declined. Despite the fact that the present is the period of maximum production and minimum consumption, I can assure the public that in general the cost of foodstuffs will be appreciably less at the end of 1920 than it is now.

With regard to clothing, the dry goods manufacturers and dealers of the country have manifested a splendid spirit of co-operation with the department's campaign. They have under consideration now a plan for the manufacture and distribution of a standardized cloth to be made up in over a hundred different styles and shades, which they will offer to the public at a considerable reduction of present prices. This cloth will be of excellent but standardized material.

Manufacture Cheaper.
In its manufacture many unnecessary cost items will be eliminated, insuring a cheaper product to the consumer. The multiplicity of styles and materials now on the market mean, of course, increased cost to the manufacturer, and, in the end, to the purchaser. It is believed that this
